

SERVICES

Digital Publishing

Digital Divide Data powers the data entry, XML conversion and digital preservation needs of publishers, libraries, content hosts, academic researchers and businesses world-wide.

Whether you are a small or large firm, have an existing XML workflow, or are taking the first steps towards digital distribution, our services, skills and business model make Digital Divide Data an ideal partner. We unlock the value of digital content for some of the largest, and smallest, consumer and educational publications—converting, preserving and enhancing the value of print, pre-press and existing digital content. We deliver precisely structured XML content for books, newspapers, magazines, journals and archives.

For small and mid-size firms, DDD provides collaborative guidance along the path to delivering your digital content in the right formats to reach your customers and partners. For large publishers, our dedication to staff training and US-based project management makes us a rock-solid outsourcing partner who can grow with you and deliver the results you require every day.

Your focus is keeping your business ahead of the rapid changes and innovation in publishing today. Our focus, technology and expertise can make your strategy a reality.

A socially responsible model that benefits your business

DDD's non-profit social enterprise model brings unique benefits to your publishing business. We have won recognition from the United Nations, World Bank, Boeing and the Skoll Foundation for social responsibility, and for the life-changing impact we have on our staff. Your business benefits from this. Our education and staffing model maintains a steady pipeline of trained staff for your projects, with an average employee retention of 3-4 years.

WHAT WE DELIVER Digital publications in the form of industry-standard and custom XML, eBooks, searchable PDFs or any content ready for search, sale or syndication.

HOW WE DO IT Customized, outsourced conversion services with customer service and project management teams in the US, EU and SE Asia. Starting with any source — print, microform, or born-digital files — we create the exact output to meet two needs: your immediate demand for ROI, and your long-term need for robust content that can be repurposed amid rapid innovation and change.

WHY DDD DDD stands out from the crowd through our unwavering commitment to client service, quality, transparent communication and socially responsible outsourcing. We serve multi-national publishers' ongoing content conversion and XML enhancement programs, but also enable small to mid-size presses to launch turn-key web sites to sell and distribute content.

Over the last decade, Digital Divide Data has become known for our commitment to customers, quality, value and innovation. We are proud of our dedication to clear, honest communication and our consultative approach to serving our clients' needs.
